MISSION SAN FRANCISCO DE ASIS
(MISSION DOLORES)

Mission San Francisco de Asis, popularly called Mission Dolores from the nearby Laguna de los Dolores, was the sixth mission established in Upper California under Father Junipero Serra, O.F.M. It was founded June 29, 1776, five days before the Declaration of Independence. It was dedicated October 3, 1776, and formally opened October 8, 1776. The first marriage was solemnized January 7, 1777; the first baptism took place in August, 1776; and the first burial "in Mission Church", in March, 1777. The San Francisco Directory of 1857, published by Samuel Colville, in an account of the Mission, states on Page 36: "At the formation of Mission Dolores there were fifteen soldiers at the military post under the command of Samazenilla Flores. The population then was about sixty-four souls exclusive of Indians." Here was baptized Dona Concepcion Arguello, February 26, 1791. Before the Epistle Altar was buried Capt. Don Jose Joaquin Moraga, whose remains were transferred to the "new church" April 8, 1791.

The cornerstone of the present church was laid by Father Palou April 25, 1782, and the church was dedicated probably on Laetare Sunday, April 3, 1791. The church is 114 feet long and 22 feet wide, and the adobe walls are four feet thick. The roof contains the original tiles and the original timbers, rough hewn redwood lashed together with rawhide. Wooden pegs of manzanita were commonly used in the structure. The ceiling remains as it was decorated by the Indians with vegetable colors. Within the church are the hand carved altars and statues brought from Mexico in 1780, the Pascal candle made by the Indian neophytes, the original confessional doors, the revolving tabernacle from Manila, and the original bells from Mexico. Father Junipero Serra visited the Mission in 1777, 1779, 1781, and 1784, and administered Confirmation on three occasions.

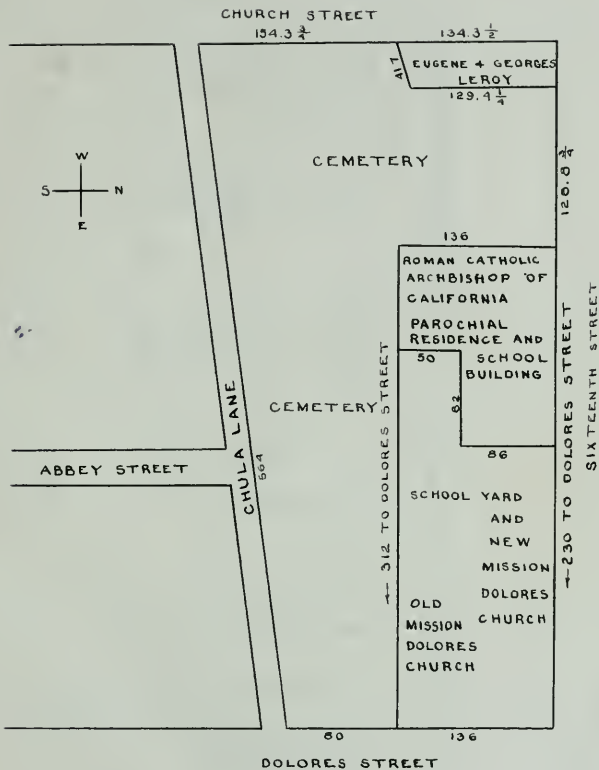

The San Francisco Directory of 1852, published by J. A. Parker, states on page 21 of the Appendix that since the establishment of the Mission "there have been 7,323 baptisms, 2,131 marriages celebrated within its walls, and 5,387 persons have been buried in its cemetery." Between 1850, when Yerba Buena Cemetery was established, and 1854, 350 interments were made at the Mission. The first interment was in September, 1776. The earliest death of modern San Francisco recorded on the tombstones is that of Peter B. Campbell, September 3, 1849, and the latest, that of Edward A. Burns, May 29, 1888.

The Biology of the Mosquito, Anopheles gambiae (Giles)
in the Sudan. I. The Larval Stage
by
M. S. GIBSON, Entomologist, Sudan Agricultural Research Station,
Khartoum, Sudan

Received for consideration, July 1, 1960; accepted for publication, August 1, 1960

ABSTRACT.—The biology of the larval stage of Anopheles gambiae (Giles) in the Sudan is described. The larvae are found in a wide range of habitats, including swamps, marshes, and small pools of water. The life cycle is completed in 14-16 days.

INTRODUCTION.—The mosquito, Anopheles gambiae (Giles) is the most important vector of malaria in the Sudan. The biology of the adult stage has been described by Gibson (1958).

The larval stage of the mosquito is the most vulnerable stage to control measures. The biology of the larval stage is described in this paper.

MATERIALS AND METHODS

The larvae were collected from various habitats in the Sudan. The collection sites were: (1) swamps, (2) marshes, (3) small pools of water, (4) rice fields, (5) irrigation canals, (6) drainage ditches, (7) water-filled tires, (8) water-filled cans, (9) water-filled bottles, (10) water-filled cups, (11) water-filled saucers, (12) water-filled plates, (13) water-filled bowls, (14) water-filled basins, (15) water-filled tubs, (16) water-filled drums, (17) water-filled barrels, (18) water-filled casks, (19) water-filled kegs, (20) water-filled barrels, (21) water-filled casks, (22) water-filled kegs, (23) water-filled barrels, (24) water-filled casks, (25) water-filled kegs.

The larvae were reared in the laboratory under the following conditions: (1) temperature, 25°C; (2) humidity, 80%; (3) photoperiod, 12 hours light/12 hours dark; (4) food, natural organic matter. The life cycle was completed in 14-16 days.

The biology of the larval stage of Anopheles gambiae (Giles) in the Sudan is described. The larvae are found in a wide range of habitats, including swamps, marshes, and small pools of water. The life cycle is completed in 14-16 days.

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry should be supported by a valid receipt or invoice to ensure transparency and accountability. This practice is essential for both internal audits and external reporting.

2. The second section focuses on the classification of expenses. It provides a detailed breakdown of various cost categories, such as direct materials, labor, and overheads. Each category is defined with specific criteria to ensure consistency in reporting. This classification is crucial for determining the true cost of production and for identifying areas for cost reduction.

3. The third part of the document addresses the issue of cost allocation. It explains how indirect costs, which cannot be directly traced to a specific product, should be allocated based on a fair and reasonable basis. This process involves identifying an appropriate cost driver and applying a predetermined rate to ensure that each product bears its fair share of the total costs.

4. The fourth section discusses the impact of inflation on cost accounting. It highlights that rising prices for raw materials and labor can significantly affect the cost of goods sold. To maintain the accuracy of financial statements, companies should use appropriate cost accounting methods, such as FIFO or LIFO, to account for these price fluctuations.

5. The fifth part of the document covers the topic of cost control. It outlines various techniques and tools used to monitor and manage costs, such as budgeting, variance analysis, and standard costing. These methods help management to identify deviations from the planned costs and take corrective actions to prevent cost overruns.

6. The final section of the document provides a summary of the key points discussed. It reiterates the importance of a systematic and disciplined approach to cost accounting, as it is a vital tool for improving operational efficiency and profitability. The document concludes by encouraging continuous improvement and the adoption of best practices in cost management.

Sacred to the memory of / John Cummiskey / Late of Boston MS /
 Who departed this life / Dec 20, 1858 / Aged 32 years & 5 months. /
 Here lies a beloved husband, whose memory / Will be cherished, by a fond and devoted / Wife, and affectionate daughter.

Mourn not my wife and daughter dear
 I am not dead but sleeping here, and when God calls, I then shall rise to meet you with Angels in Paradise.

Hath the low drooping boughs of the sad weeping
 Willow, life's favor departed, how sweetly he sleeps
 With the bosom of earth for his couch and his pillow
 And two silent mourners to visit and weep.

When the evening wind steals with a low gentle sighing

On the hill that looks down on the flower covered Mound, let it be a sad dirge for the lone one,

thats

Sleeping in silence and quietness under the ground.

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry should be supported by a valid receipt or invoice to ensure transparency and accountability.

2. The second part of the document outlines the specific procedures for recording income and expenses. It provides a clear step-by-step guide for how to categorize different types of transactions and how to reconcile the accounts at the end of each month.

3. Maintaining Accurate Records

It is essential to keep a detailed log of all financial activities, including both personal and business-related transactions. This log should be updated regularly to avoid any discrepancies.

4. The document also addresses the importance of regular reconciliation. By comparing the recorded transactions against the actual bank statements, you can identify and correct any errors or unauthorized transactions in a timely manner.

5. Reconciliation Procedures

Reconciliation should be performed at least once a month. This process involves matching the entries in your ledger with the corresponding entries on the bank statement to ensure that the balances are consistent.

6. Final Summary

In conclusion, maintaining accurate financial records is a critical component of sound financial management. By following the guidelines outlined in this document, you can ensure that your records are complete, accurate, and easy to audit.

7. The final part of the document provides a checklist of key tasks to ensure that all necessary steps are followed. This checklist includes verifying the accuracy of all entries, reconciling accounts, and retaining supporting documents for a minimum of seven years.

8. Additionally, the document offers advice on how to handle common issues, such as missing receipts or discrepancies between records and bank statements. It suggests keeping a backup of all records and reaching out to the relevant parties for clarification when needed.

9. Finally, the document emphasizes the importance of staying organized and consistent in your record-keeping practices. By establishing a routine and using clear, standardized methods, you can make the process of maintaining financial records much easier and more efficient.

1. The first part of the document discusses the general principles of the law of contract. It covers the formation of a contract, the elements of a contract, and the remedies available for breach of contract. This section is particularly important as it sets the foundation for understanding the legal obligations of the parties involved.

2. The second part of the document focuses on the specific rules governing the performance of a contract. It addresses issues such as the time and place of performance, the manner of performance, and the consequences of non-performance. This section provides a detailed analysis of the legal requirements for a contract to be fully executed.

3. The third part of the document deals with the discharge of a contract. It explores various methods of discharge, including agreement, frustration, and breach. This section is crucial for understanding the circumstances under which a contract may be terminated or its obligations extinguished.

4. The fourth part of the document discusses the remedies available for breach of contract. It examines the principles of damages, specific performance, and injunctions. This section is essential for understanding the legal consequences of a party's failure to fulfill its contractual obligations.

5. The fifth part of the document covers the law of agency. It defines the relationship between a principal and an agent, the scope of an agent's authority, and the legal consequences of an agent's actions. This section is particularly relevant in the context of commercial transactions and business operations.

6. The sixth part of the document discusses the law of tort. It covers the elements of negligence, the duty of care, and the remedies available for tortious conduct. This section is important for understanding the legal responsibilities of individuals and organizations in society.

7. The seventh part of the document deals with the law of property. It examines the rights of ownership, the transfer of property, and the protection of property interests. This section is crucial for understanding the legal framework governing the acquisition and use of real and personal property.

1. The first part of the proof is to show that $\mathbb{Z}[\sqrt{d}]$ is a subring of \mathbb{C} . This is straightforward since $\mathbb{Z}[\sqrt{d}]$ is closed under addition and multiplication, and contains the multiplicative identity 1.

2. Next, we show that $\mathbb{Z}[\sqrt{d}]$ is a local ring. To do this, we need to show that the set of non-invertible elements is a maximal ideal. Let \mathfrak{m} be the set of non-invertible elements in $\mathbb{Z}[\sqrt{d}]$. We claim that \mathfrak{m} is a maximal ideal.

3. To see this, let $R = \mathbb{Z}[\sqrt{d}]$ and let \mathfrak{m} be the set of non-invertible elements. Suppose $\mathfrak{m} \subsetneq \mathfrak{a} \subsetneq R$. Then \mathfrak{a} contains a unit u and a non-invertible element x . Since u is a unit, $u^{-1}x \in \mathfrak{a}$ and $u^{-1}x$ is a non-invertible element. Thus \mathfrak{a} contains all non-invertible elements, so $\mathfrak{a} = \mathfrak{m}$.

4. Finally, we show that $\mathbb{Z}[\sqrt{d}]$ is a local ring. We have shown that the set of non-invertible elements is a maximal ideal. Therefore, $\mathbb{Z}[\sqrt{d}]$ is a local ring.

5. The next part of the proof is to show that $\mathbb{Z}[\sqrt{d}]$ is a local ring. We have shown that the set of non-invertible elements is a maximal ideal. Therefore, $\mathbb{Z}[\sqrt{d}]$ is a local ring.

6. Finally, we show that $\mathbb{Z}[\sqrt{d}]$ is a local ring. We have shown that the set of non-invertible elements is a maximal ideal. Therefore, $\mathbb{Z}[\sqrt{d}]$ is a local ring.

7. The next part of the proof is to show that $\mathbb{Z}[\sqrt{d}]$ is a local ring. We have shown that the set of non-invertible elements is a maximal ideal. Therefore, $\mathbb{Z}[\sqrt{d}]$ is a local ring.

8. Finally, we show that $\mathbb{Z}[\sqrt{d}]$ is a local ring. We have shown that the set of non-invertible elements is a maximal ideal. Therefore, $\mathbb{Z}[\sqrt{d}]$ is a local ring.

9. The next part of the proof is to show that $\mathbb{Z}[\sqrt{d}]$ is a local ring. We have shown that the set of non-invertible elements is a maximal ideal. Therefore, $\mathbb{Z}[\sqrt{d}]$ is a local ring.

10. Finally, we show that $\mathbb{Z}[\sqrt{d}]$ is a local ring. We have shown that the set of non-invertible elements is a maximal ideal. Therefore, $\mathbb{Z}[\sqrt{d}]$ is a local ring.

Our sainted mother gone to rest
 But O how great we feel her loss
 We murmur not she is with the blessed
 And we will meekly bear the cross,
 Our father too, he bowed his head,
 Her loss he could not long sustain.
 Both are numbered with the dead
 Our loss is their eternal gain.

Mission Dolores

In the Old Mission Dolores Church June 6, 1922

2⁴⁵ P.M. South side altar,

→ of building and 6 ft ^{east} of the ^{south} side of the altar an excavation made at left side of church - 3 ft from ^{south} side at depth of about 2 1/2 ft. an old metal box containing earth and a few bones apparently of an infant. Size of box ^{coffin} ~~coffin~~ shaped, and of length about 2 ft 3 inches in length - at widest part it 7 1/2 in. at top 4 1/2 wide at foot 3 inches in coffin is 6 in deep.

Present Rev. Father Sullivan, Charles B. Turner
Charles Francis Grippin W.D. ~~rest of~~ these (who is making these notes) ^{and} several workmen. Bones were carefully examined and were those of a very small infant. Box contains no legible inscription. The glass in front face of coffin in two fragments inside the coffin with portions of skull and ^{teeth} jaw bones and ribs. The bones will be returned ^{to} the ^{coffin} ~~in~~ ^{the} ~~coffin~~ ⁱⁿ custody of Father Sullivan for future disposition.

About three feet ~~ft~~ below the level where ~~the coffin~~ ^{lead coffin} was found - were portions of the remains of a human adult the skull, lower jaw, teeth, many small white beads were found in a small area. No evidence of any sort of casket was encountered.
Excavation to be continued tomorrow.

June 7-1923. The area above mentioned covering a space of about 5 x 5 x 5 feet was thoroughly explored, and nothing but a few additional bones
all ^{of} ~~some~~ were re-interred and the excavation was refilled.
